Big News Network (ANI) Saturday 7th March, 2015

Harrison Ford's wife Calista Flockhart has banned her actor husband from flying alone solo after his most recent near-death plane crash.

One friend said asserted that Calista was devastated and it was a worry for her and his children that the actor had this dangerous hobby, the Mirror reported.

The friend continued that whether or not the 'Indiana Jones' star will pilot a plane again remains to be seen but everyone around him certainly hopes that the actor will take a break or give it up forever.

The 'Ally McBeal' star was at her husband's bedside after he had surgery for a fractured pelvis and he also suffered a broken ankle.

Flockhart is deeply worried for Ford's safety because the 72-year-old actor spends lot of time flying his prized collection of planes. (ANI)
