A MAN and woman are trapped after a light plane rolled while attempting to land at an airstrip in north Queensland.

Police said two people are reportedly pinned underneath the aircraft Starke Airfield in Woodstock near Townsville and were called around 10.30am today.

The man has been flown to Townsville Hospital in a serious condition after emergency services freed the pair using hydraulic cutting tools.

The woman, in her 20s, will be taken via ambulance to Townsville Hospital. She suffered a laceration to her arm and has neck pain, but is otherwise in a stable condition.
