RIVERLAND FLIGHT INCIDENT

Charter air operator, Rossair, says police have advised that wreckage of an aircraft from the Company's fleet has been located near the main airfield servicing South Australia's Riverland.

Police have advised Rossair that all three people aboard are deceased.

The aircraft, a Cessna Conquest, was on a training flight from Adelaide to the Riverland and return.

A Rossair spokesperson said tonight the loss of Company personnel was profound for the families concerned and all company employees. The Company is tonight seeking to contact all family members involved.

Rossair said it hoped to make a further statement as more details come to hand.

The Company would be working closely with aviation authorities and emergency personnel to determine the cause of the crash.
