

Plane crash lands near Princes Highway, pilot and passenger 'shaken' but unharmed

Neelima Choahan

Two people have had a lucky escape after a light plane crashed in Traralgon on Thursday afternoon.

An Ambulance Victoria spokesman said the plane came down near the Princes Highway and the Latrobe Regional Airport at about 1.25pm.

Paramedics assessed a man and woman who weren't injured, but are shaken.

A spokesman for the Australian Transport Safety Bureau said staff were informed of the crash about 2pm.

Emergency workers at the scene of the light plane crash near Traralgon. Photo: Bryce Eishold/Latrobe Valley Express

"It was a forced landing in a paddock about one kilometre short of the aerodrome at Traralgon," he said.

Extracted from:

<http://www.theage.com.au/national/secondary-education-victoria/plane-crash-lands-near-princes-highway-pilot-and-passenger-shaken-but-unharmed-20170223-gujlmo.html>

On 23/02/17 at 14:25:59

An Ambulance Victoria spokesman said the plane came down near the Latrobe Regional Airport. Photo: Bryce Eishold/Latrobe Valley Express